

Advice and support for posted workers:

39. Is there an organization that provides support to displaced workers in the Czech republic?

There are several organizations and institutions in the Czech Republic that provide support to displaced workers. These organizations offer various services such as job placement, retraining programs, legal advice, and social support.

40. As posted workers, can I join a union in the Czech republic?

Posted workers in Czechia have the right to join a union. In the Czech Republic, posted workers are entitled to the same rights and protections as local workers, including the right to join trade unions. You can become a member of a union that represents your sector or profession, which can help ensure that your rights are upheld and provide you with support during your posting.
